Dinners are free.

The aim of these European encounters is to bring together towns of great history in Croatia, France and eastern Europe on the theme of transport and mobility in towns of great history or with protected areas.

This regional seminar intends to present the history and culture of travel, through a compared approach, beginning with the specificity of ancient town centres and the various approaches relating to the management of urban transport: public and private transport, promoting "clean" transport and sustainable development, heritage conservation and ensuring safety in the heart of old quarters (safety linked to transport but also accessibility in case of disaster or fire).

PROCHAINE MANIFESTATION : Saintes (France), "Residential quality in protected areas", 9-10 December 2009
